FROM THE PASTOR'S HEART

August 2, 2026

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

If there is one lesson that life teaches all of us sooner or later, it is this: life rarely unfolds according to our plans. We carefully imagine our future. We dream about watching our children grow, enjoying good health, retiring peacefully, or finally reaching a season when life slows down and everything seems to fall into place. Then, often without warning, everything changes. One phone call. One visit to the doctor's office. One unexpected loss. One painful conversation. Suddenly, the road before us looks very different from the one we had envisioned.

This Sunday's Scripture readings speak directly to those moments. Through the prophet Isaiah, the Lord gently asks, "Why spend your money for what is not bread, your wages for what fails to satisfy?" (Isaiah 55:1-3). How often we search for peace by trying to make everything go according to our plans, believing that if only life unfolded the way we expected, we would finally be happy. Yet the Lord reminds us that lasting peace is found not in controlling our future, but in trusting the One who holds our future. St. Paul then gives us one of the most comforting promises in all of Sacred Scripture: "Nothing... will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord." (Romans 8:35, 37-39). Not suffering. Not disappointment. Not failure. Not uncertainty. Not even death itself. Whatever tomorrow brings, we never face it alone.

Between those two readings stands today's beautiful Gospel. Most of us remember it as the miracle of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes (cf. Mt 14:13-21). Yet before the miracle takes place, there is a detail that is easy to overlook. Jesus had just learned of the brutal execution of His cousin, John the Baptist. Like anyone grieving the loss of someone dearly loved, He withdrew by boat to a deserted place, hoping for a little silence to pray and mourn. But when He arrived, His plans had already been interrupted. Instead of solitude, He found thousands of people waiting for Him.

Life has a way of doing that to us. Sometimes our plans are interrupted by illness or loss. Sometimes by circumstances beyond our control. But sometimes our deepest disappointments come through people. We pour ourselves into another person's life. We sacrifice quietly. We forgive repeatedly. We give far more than anyone expects because that is what love does. Then, when we least expect it, we are met not with gratitude but with misunderstanding, not with appreciation but with criticism, not with kindness but with words that wound us deeply. Those moments can leave us discouraged. They can tempt us to become guarded, cynical, or simply tired of loving.

Jesus knew those moments as well. He knew betrayal by a friend, abandonment by His disciples, rejection by His own people, and false accusations from those He had come to save. Yet He never allowed the bitterness of others to determine the goodness of His own heart. That may be one of the greatest miracles in today's Gospel. St. Matthew tells us simply that "His heart was moved with pity for them". Even while carrying His own sorrow, Jesus saw the suffering of others. Instead of turning inward, He reached outward. Before He multiplied the loaves, He first multiplied love.

The disciples, however, saw only a problem. Looking at the thousands gathered before them, they protested, "We have only five loaves and two fish." Perhaps today that is our own prayer: "Lord, this is all I have left"—a tired heart, a wounded relationship, an uncertain future, or a faith that feels weaker than it once was. Whatever it may be, Jesus gives us the same invitation He gave His disciples: "Bring them here to me."

My dear friends, God often performs His greatest miracles not when life unfolds according to our plans, but when we place our interrupted plans into His hands. Whatever burden you carry today, whatever disappointment has found its way into your heart, do not keep it to yourself. Perhaps today, more than ever, we need to hear those simple words that changed everything on that hillside long ago—and can still change everything in our lives today: "Bring them here to me."

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Msgr. "John" Cuong M. Pham

DEL CORAZON DEL PASTOR

2 de agosto, 2026

Queridos hermanos y hermanas en Cristo,

Con el paso de los años, todos terminamos descubriendo una gran verdad: la vida casi nunca transcurre exactamente como la habíamos imaginado. Hacemos proyectos. Soñamos con ver crecer a nuestros hijos, disfrutar de buena salud, llegar a una jubilación tranquila o alcanzar esa etapa en la que todo parece acomodarse. Pero, sin previo aviso, todo puede cambiar. Una llamada telefónica. Una visita al médico. Una pérdida inesperada. Una conversación dolorosa. Y, de pronto, el camino que tenemos delante deja de parecerse al que habíamos planeado.

Precisamente a esos momentos se dirigen las lecturas de este domingo. Por medio del profeta Isaías, el Señor nos pregunta: "¿Por qué gastar el dinero en lo que no alimenta y el salario en lo que no deja satisfecho?" (Is 55, 1-3). ¡Cuántas veces creemos que la paz llegará si todo sale según nuestros planes! Sin embargo, el Señor nos recuerda que la verdadera paz no nace de controlar el futuro, sino de confiar en Aquel que ya lo tiene en sus manos.

San Pablo añade una de las promesas más consoladoras de toda la Escritura: "Nada podrá separarnos del amor de Dios manifestado en Cristo Jesús, Señor nuestro." (Rm 8, 35.37-39). Ni el sufrimiento. Ni el fracaso. Ni la decepción. Ni la incertidumbre. Ni siquiera la muerte. Pase lo que pase, nunca caminaremos solos.

Entre estas dos lecturas encontramos el Evangelio de la multiplicación de los panes y los peces (cfr. Mt 14, 13-21). Antes del milagro hay un detalle que fácilmente pasa desapercibido. Jesús acababa de recibir la noticia de la muerte de Juan el Bautista. Buscó un lugar apartado para orar y hacer duelo, pero al llegar encontró una multitud esperándolo. Sus planes también habían sido interrumpidos.

Así sucede con nosotros. A veces nuestros planes cambian por una enfermedad, una pérdida o circunstancias que no podemos controlar. Otras veces, las heridas más profundas vienen de las personas. Damos lo mejor de nosotros. Servimos, perdonamos y amamos con generosidad, porque el amor verdadero siempre da más de lo que se espera. Y, sin embargo, a veces recibimos incomprensión, críticas o palabras que hieren profundamente. Esas experiencias pueden desanimarnos y hasta hacernos perder las ganas de seguir amando.

Jesús también conoció ese dolor. Experimentó la traición de un amigo, el abandono de sus discípulos, el rechazo de su propio pueblo y las falsas acusaciones de quienes había venido a salvar. Y, sin embargo, nunca permitió que el dolor que otros le causaron endureciera su corazón. Quizá ese sea uno de los milagros más grandes de este Evangelio. San Mateo nos dice sencillamente que, al ver a la multitud, "se compadeció de ella". Aun llevando en su corazón el peso de su propio sufrimiento, Jesús fue capaz de mirar el sufrimiento de los demás. En lugar de encerrarse en sí mismo, salió a su encuentro. Antes de multiplicar los panes, Jesús multiplicó la compasión.

Los discípulos, en cambio, solo veían el problema. "No tenemos más que cinco panes y dos peces", le dijeron. Tal vez esa sea también nuestra oración de hoy: "Señor, esto es todo lo que me queda": un corazón cansado, una relación herida, un futuro incierto o una fe más débil de la que quisiéramos. Sea cual sea nuestra situación, Jesús nos dirige hoy la misma invitación que hizo a sus discípulos: "Tráiganmelos aquí."

Queridos hermanos, Dios suele realizar sus mayores milagros no cuando la vida sigue nuestros planes, sino cuando ponemos en sus manos los planes que se han visto interrumpidos. Si hoy llevas una carga que parece demasiado pesada, no la guardes para ti. Ponla en las manos del Señor. Quizá hoy, más que nunca, necesitamos escuchar aquellas sencillas palabras que transformaron la vida de aquella multitud y que también pueden transformar la nuestra: "Tráiganmelos aquí."

Sinceramente suyo en Cristo,

Mons. "Juan" Cuong M. Pham
