FROM THE PASTOR'S HEART

July 19, 2026

Dear parishioners,

One of the blessings of my recent trip to Vietnam was the opportunity to return to the village where my family comes from. Walking once again through the rice fields, I was reminded that farmers possess a wisdom that many of us have forgotten. They know that growth cannot be rushed. A field is never perfect. Alongside the healthy stalks there are always weeds, patches of dry ground, and signs of imperfection. Yet no experienced farmer spends every day worrying about the weeds. Instead, he patiently tends the crop, trusting that, in time, the grain will mature and the harvest will come.

That image stayed with me because it is exactly the lesson Jesus teaches us in this Sunday's Gospel. When the servants discover weeds growing among the wheat, they immediately want to remove them. It seems like the obvious solution. Yet the master tells them to wait. Pulling up the weeds too soon may also uproot the wheat. Sometimes patience is wiser than perfectionism.

Isn't that true of our own lives? We are often painfully aware of the weeds within ourselves—our faults, our failures, our bad habits, our unanswered prayers. Sometimes we become discouraged because we see what still needs to change instead of what God has already begun to accomplish. We can also become impatient with others, too quickly defining people by their weaknesses instead of recognizing that God's grace is still at work within them.

The Book of Wisdom reminds us that God Himself does not treat us that way. Although He is all-powerful, He governs with mercy and patience (cf. Wisdom 12:13, 16-19). His strength is revealed not by severity but by compassion. He never gives up on us because He always sees more in us than we are able to see in ourselves. He never stops believing that a sinner can become a saint.

Saint Paul gives us another beautiful reassurance: "The Spirit comes to the aid of our weakness" (Romans 8:26-27). Even when we feel we are failing, even when we do not know how to pray, God has not abandoned us. The Holy Spirit is already at work within us, gently leading us toward the person He created us to become. Our weaknesses are never the final chapter of our story because God's grace is always at work beneath the surface.

Jesus then offers two small parables that fill us with hope. A tiny mustard seed becomes a great tree. A little yeast transforms an entire batch of dough. The Kingdom of God usually grows quietly, almost unnoticed. Most of the good we do each day seems small: a kind word, a patient response, a visit to someone who is lonely, a prayer offered for a loved one, a child taught to make the Sign of the Cross, or a simple act of forgiveness. None of these may seem extraordinary. Yet in God's hands, they can bear fruit far beyond anything we will ever see.

That is a message our world needs to hear. We live in a culture that celebrates immediate results and visible success. God, however, is never rushed. He works patiently, quietly, and faithfully. He asks only that we continue planting good seed and trust Him with the harvest.

As your pastor, I thank God every day for the countless mustard seeds I witness in our parish. They are found in the volunteer who quietly gives an hour of service, the parishioner who faithfully attends daily Mass, the parent who teaches a child to pray, the young person who chooses virtue over popularity, the family that welcomes a neighbor in need, and the many unseen acts of charity that no one applauds except God. Together, these hidden acts of goodness are building the Kingdom of God in our parish.

May we never become discouraged by the weeds we encounter, whether in ourselves, in others, or in the world around us. Instead, let us remain patient, continue doing the little good that God places before us each day, and trust that, in His time, He will bring forth a harvest more abundant than we could ever have imagined.

May Our Lady of Mount Carmel teach us to trust as she did, believing that even when God's work seems hidden, He is quietly bringing forth a harvest that will one day fill His Kingdom.

Peace in Christ,

Msgr. "John" Cuong M. Pham

DEL CORAZON DEL PASTOR

19 de julio, 2026

Queridos feligreses,

Una de las mayores bendiciones de mi reciente viaje a Vietnam fue la oportunidad de regresar al pueblo de donde proviene mi familia. Al caminar una vez más por los campos de arroz, recordé que los agricultores poseen una sabiduría que muchos de nosotros hemos olvidado. Ellos saben que el crecimiento no puede apresurarse. Un campo nunca es perfecto. Junto a las espigas sanas siempre hay maleza, terrenos resecos y señales de imperfección. Sin embargo, ningún agricultor con experiencia pasa los días preocupado por la maleza. Más bien, cuida el cultivo con paciencia, confiando en que, a su debido tiempo, el grano madurará y llegará la cosecha.

Desde ese momento, esa imagen no ha dejado de acompañarme, porque es precisamente la lección que Jesús nos quiere enseñar en el Evangelio de este domingo. Cuando los siervos descubren la maleza que ha crecido entre el trigo, quieren arrancarla de inmediato. Parece la solución más lógica. Sin embargo, el dueño les dice que esperen. Si arrancan la maleza demasiado pronto, también podrían arrancar el trigo. A veces, la paciencia es más sabía que el perfeccionismo. ¿No sucede lo mismo en nuestra propia vida? Con demasiada frecuencia solo vemos la "maleza" de nuestra vida: nuestros defectos, nuestras caídas, nuestros malos hábitos y aquellas oraciones que parecen no recibir respuesta. Nos desanimamos porque fijamos la mirada en lo que todavía necesita cambiar, en lugar de reconocer todo lo que Dios ya ha comenzado a realizar en nosotros. Y lo mismo puede sucedernos con los demás: los juzgamos demasiado pronto por sus debilidades, sin darnos cuenta de que la gracia de Dios sigue obrando silenciosamente en sus corazones.

El Libro de la Sabiduría nos recuerda que Dios no nos trata de esa manera. Aunque es todopoderoso, gobierna con misericordia y paciencia (cfr. Sabiduría 12, 13.16-19). Su fuerza se manifiesta, no en la severidad, sino en la compasión. Dios nunca se da por vencido con nosotros, porque siempre ve en nosotros mucho más de lo que nosotros mismos alcanzamos a ver. Nunca deja de creer que un pecador puede llegar a ser un santo.

San Pablo nos ofrece otra hermosa certeza: "El Espíritu viene en ayuda de nuestra debilidad" (Romanos 8:26-27). Incluso cuando sentimos que estamos fallando o no sabemos cómo orar, Dios no nos ha abandonado. Nuestras debilidades nunca son el último capítulo de nuestra historia, porque la gracia de Dios siempre está actuando, aun cuando nosotros no la percibamos.

Jesús nos presenta luego dos breves parábolas llenas de esperanza. Una diminuta semilla de mostaza llega a convertirse en un gran árbol. Un poco de levadura hace fermentar toda la masa. Así suele crecer el Reino de Dios: de manera silenciosa, casi imperceptible. La mayor parte del bien que hacemos cada día parece pequeña: una palabra de ánimo, una respuesta paciente, una visita a quien está solo, una oración por un ser querido, enseñar a un niño a hacer la señal de la cruz o un sencillo gesto de perdón. Nada de esto parece extraordinario. Sin embargo, en las manos de Dios puede producir frutos mucho más grandes de lo que jamás llegaremos a imaginar.

Este es un mensaje que nuestro mundo necesita escuchar. Vivimos en una cultura que busca resultados inmediatos y éxito visible. Dios, en cambio, nunca tiene prisa. Él obra con paciencia, en silencio y con fidelidad. Solo nos pide que sigamos sembrando buena semilla y le dejemos a Él el tiempo de la cosecha.

Como su pastor, doy gracias a Dios cada día por los innumerables pequeños gestos de amor que descubro en nuestra parroquia. Los veo en el voluntario que ofrece discretamente una hora de servicio; en el feligrés que participa fielmente en la Misa diaria; en los padres que enseñan a sus hijos a rezar; en el joven que elige la virtud antes que la popularidad; en la familia que abre su corazón al vecino necesitado; y en tantas obras de caridad que nadie aplaude, excepto Dios. Todos esos pequeños actos de amor están construyendo, día tras día, el Reino de Dios entre nosotros.

No permitamos que la maleza nos robe la esperanza. Que Nuestra Señora del Monte Carmelo nos enseñe a confiar como ella confió, creyendo que, aun cuando la obra de Dios parezca oculta, Él está preparando silenciosamente una cosecha que un día llenará su Reino.

En Cristo,

Mons. "Juan" Cuong M. Pham
