FROM THE PASTOR'S HEART

August 9, 2026

Dear brothers and sisters,

Two weeks ago, while I was preaching at the National Shrine of Our Lady of La Vang in Seattle, Washington, something happened that I will never forget. After one of the conferences, a husband and wife approached me with tears in their eyes. Before introducing themselves, they asked, "Are you Sonny's younger brother?" I smiled and answered, "Yes." Immediately, they began telling me a story I had heard many times growing up, but hearing it from someone who had actually lived it was something altogether different.

My older brother, Sonny, escaped Vietnam by boat when he was only fourteen years old. It was shortly after the Vietnam War, when hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese fled by sea in search of freedom. He was packed into a small fishing boat with about thirty other refugees. After several days at sea, pirates attacked them. They stole everything they had, destroyed the boat's engine, and left everyone drifting in the middle of the South China Sea.

As the days passed, people began to lose hope. Some died and were committed to the sea. Everyone prayed according to his or her own faith. My brother was one of only a few Catholics on board. Then, as the survivors were beginning to lose hope, my fourteen-year-old brother quietly reached into his pocket and took out the Rosary my grandmother had placed into his hands before he left home. Clutching it tightly, he prayed.

The couple told me that only a short time later, someone shouted that a ship had appeared on the horizon. It was an American vessel. Against all odds, it spotted their tiny drifting boat and rescued everyone who was still alive. When they arrived safely at the refugee camp in Malaysia, several of the Buddhist refugees asked to become Catholics. They said that they had witnessed, in the faith of a frightened fourteen-year-old boy holding his Rosary in the middle of the sea, a hope they had never seen before.

When I later told my brother about meeting them after all these years, he simply smiled. "I didn't do anything," he said. "Our Lady did."

Many people have asked me how a fourteen-year-old boy ended up alone on that boat. Shortly after the fall of South Vietnam, my father returned home after five years in a communist prison and labor camp. Our family had almost nothing left. Food was scarce, and my parents knew that unless one of their children could somehow escape and begin a new life abroad, there seemed to be little hope for the rest of the family. My oldest brother tried several times to escape with my father but was captured each time. Finally, Sonny begged my father, "Let me try. Maybe I will have better luck."

He wasn't running away from home. He was trying to save it.

As I prayed over this Sunday's Gospel, I could not help thinking that the Sea of Galilee and the South China Sea are separated by thousands of miles and two thousand years, yet they tell the same story (cf. Matthew 14:22-33). In both, frightened people found themselves caught in a storm they could not control. In both, God came to them while the storm was still raging.

As I flew home from Seattle, I kept thinking about that couple. It would be easy to say that the miracle happened when the American ship appeared on the horizon. But I don't think that was the first miracle. The first miracle happened when a frightened fourteen-year-old boy refused to let go of his Rosary. Before anyone saw the rescue ship, he had already placed his life into God's hands.

Every one of us will face storms. The question is not whether they will come. The question is whether we will keep trusting the Lord before we see the shore.

May Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Star of the Sea, teach us never to let go of her Son. For those who keep their eyes fixed on Christ never sail alone.

May God bless you and your family.

DEL CORAZON DEL PASTOR

9 de agosto, 2026

Queridos hermanos y hermanas,

Hace dos semanas, mientras predicaba en el Santuario Nacional de Nuestra Señora de La Vang, en Seattle, Washington, viví una experiencia que nunca voy a olvidar. Al terminar una de las conferencias, un matrimonio se me acercó con lágrimas en los ojos. Antes de presentarse, me hicieron una pregunta que me tomó completamente por sorpresa: "¿Usted es el hermano menor de Sonny?" Les respondí: "Sí". Enseguida comenzaron a contarme una historia que había escuchado muchas veces desde niño, pero oírla de labios de quienes la habían vivido fue algo completamente distinto.

Mi hermano mayor, Sonny, escapó de Vietnam por mar cuando tenía apenas catorce años. Acababa de terminar la guerra. Miles y miles de personas se lanzaban al mar buscando la libertad, y él era una de ellas. Viajaba en una pequeña embarcación junto con unas treinta personas. Después de varios días, unos piratas los atacaron, les quitaron todo lo que tenían, destruyeron el motor y los dejaron a la deriva en medio del Mar de China Meridional.

Los días pasaban y la esperanza se iba apagando. Algunos murieron y fueron sepultados en el mar. Los demás sabían que, si nadie los encontraba, correrían la misma suerte. Cada uno rezaba según su propia fe. Mi hermano era uno de los pocos católicos que iban en aquella embarcación. Cuando ya casi todos habían perdido la esperanza, mi hermano sacó del bolsillo el rosario que mi abuela le había puesto en las manos antes de despedirse de él. Lo apretó con todas sus fuerzas y comenzó a rezar.

Aquella pareja me contó que, poco después, alguien gritó que un barco aparecía en el horizonte. Era un barco estadounidense. Contra toda esperanza, encontró aquella pequeña embarcación y rescató a todos los que aún seguían con vida. Al llegar al campo de refugiados en Malasia ocurrió algo extraordinario. Varios de los refugiados budistas pidieron recibir el Bautismo. Me dijeron que, al ver la fe de un muchacho de catorce años aferrado a su rosario en medio del mar, descubrieron una esperanza que nunca antes habían conocido.

Cuando más tarde le conté a mi hermano que me había encontrado con ellos después de tantos años, simplemente sonrió y me dijo: "Yo no hice nada. Lo hizo la Virgen".

Muchas personas me han preguntado cómo un muchacho de catorce años terminó solo en aquella embarcación. La respuesta es muy sencilla. Poco después de que mi padre regresara a casa, tras pasar cinco años en una prisión y en un campo de trabajos forzados del régimen comunista, nuestra familia lo había perdido casi todo. Mi hermano mayor intentó escapar varias veces junto con mi padre, pero siempre fueron capturados. Entonces Sonny le rogó a mi padre que lo dejara intentar a él.

No escapaba para salvarse él. Escapaba para salvar a su familia.

Al reflexionar sobre el Evangelio de este domingo, comprendí que el Mar de Galilea y el Mar de China Meridional cuentan la misma historia (cfr. Mateo 14:22-33). En ambos, personas llenas de miedo quedaron atrapadas en una tormenta que no podían controlar. Y en ambos, Dios salió a su encuentro mientras la tormenta seguía golpeando.

Mientras regresaba en avión desde Seattle, seguía pensando en aquella pareja. Sería fácil pensar que el milagro ocurrió cuando apareció el barco en el horizonte. Pero yo creo que el primer milagro sucedió mucho antes. El primer milagro fue que, antes de que apareciera el barco, la fe seguía viva.

Todos nosotros pasaremos por tormentas. La pregunta no es si llegarán. La verdadera pregunta es: ¿en quién pondremos nuestra confianza cuando lleguen?

Que la Virgen del Carmen, Estrella del Mar, nos enseñe a no soltar nunca la mano de su Hijo. Porque quien pone su mirada en Cristo nunca navega solo.

Que Dios los bendiga a ustedes y a sus familias.

Mons. "Juan" Cuong M. Pham

SEMINARIANS' FAREWELL

This has been a week of goodbyes for our parish. After bidding farewell to Father Joe Pham, we now also say goodbye to our seminarians, Peter Thinh Dang and Francis Thien An, as they return to the seminary following six weeks of summer ministry with us.

We are deeply grateful to their Vincentian superiors for the confidence they have placed in our parish, and to Peter and Francis for the generous spirit with which they embraced this assignment. Through their joyful service, faithful witness, and loving presence, they became an integral part of our parish family. Whether assisting at the altar, serving at parish events, or simply being present among us, they reflected the joy and generosity of a vocation lived with sincerity. Their willingness to serve and the stories of their call to the priesthood have inspired many in our community.

As they continue their formation, we assure them of our prayers and gratitude. May the Lord continue to bless and guide them as they prepare one day to serve His people as priests.

Ad multos annos, Peter and Francis!!!

DESPEDIDA DE NUESTROS SEMINARISTAS

Esta ha sido una semana de despedidas para nuestra parroquia. Después de despedirnos del Padre Joe Pham, ahora también nos despedimos de nuestros seminaristas, Pedro Thinh Dang y Francisco Thien An, quienes regresan al seminario después de seis semanas de servicio pastoral con nosotros para comenzar un nuevo año de formación.

Queremos expresar nuestro profundo agradecimiento a sus superiores vicentinos por la confianza que han depositado en nuestra parroquia, y también a Peter y Francis por la generosidad con la que vivieron esta experiencia. Durante estas seis semanas se integraron plenamente a nuestra comunidad parroquial. Con su servicio desinteresado, su fidelidad y su presencia cercana y alegre, nos dieron un hermoso testimonio de su vocación y dejaron una huella en el corazón de muchos de nosotros.

Al regresar al seminario para continuar su formación para el sacerdocio, les aseguramos nuestras oraciones y nuestro agradecimiento.

¡Ad multos annos, Pedro y Francisco!
